OPEN VINEYARDS

No cellar door normally means no visitation, but for one weekend Margaret River Fine Vines Festival is offering you an exclusive invitation to go between the vines and meet the makers at wineries that generally aren't open to the public. Meet the makers behind some of your favourite Margaret River Region wines and get to understand their own wine making process, right where the magic happens. Buy bottles and get the inside scoop from your favourite small batch producers. This is your go-to-guide to ensure you experience all Open Vineyards has to offer.
